NURSE SCHOLARS ACHIEVING EXCELLENCE

Cynthia Prows

Clinical Nurse Specialist in Genetics

Cynthia Prows, or Cindy as she is often referred to, is highlighted in this Connections issue as the Beta Iota Chapter Nurse Scholar Achieving Excellence. Cynthia earned her baccalaureate and master's degree from the University of Cincinnati College of Nursing. Her graduate focus was Parent/Child Nursing. In addition, she has received certificates in Nursing Child Assessment Satellite Training (NCAST) and in Distance Education. For the past 16 years, Cynthia has worked at the Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center as a clinical nurse specialist (CNS) in genetics. Among her many honors, Cynthia is a recipient of the International Society of Nurses in Genetics President's Award and is an American Nurses Foundation Scholar.

Cynthia is nationally known for her expertise in genetics. Her leadership activities include several advisory boards and task forces at the national level that address genetics. For example, she serves as a member of the Health Resources and Services Administration's National Advisory Council on Nurse Education and Practice, as a steering committee member responsible for the Essential Nursing Competencies and Curricula Guidelines for Genetics and Genomics that is featured on ANA's Nursing World website, and a member of the National Coalition for Health Professional Education in Genetics, Diversity Initiative Steering Committee. Cynthia has been an advisory board member of the Genetics Interdisciplinary Faculty Training Program at Duke University and in 1998, she served as the co-editor of a special issue on genetics in the AACN Clinical Issues: Advanced Practice in Acute and Critical Care. She also served on the NINR planning team to develop the Summer Genetics Institute for Nurses. Among her many educational projects, Cynthia designed and implemented the Genetics Summer Institute for a national audience and for both an international and national audience, she designed an 18-week web-based genetics program.

Her publications are numerous and are evidence of her passion for genetics. Over the past fourteen years, she has disseminated knowledge about genetics on almost an annual basis in medical and nursing journals. Her most recent publication is in the Journal of Nursing Scholarship entitled, "Genomics in Nursing Education". Cynthia has been the principal investigator on NIH grants such as the Web Based Genetics Education Series for Nurses. She has received funding from the March of Dimes to address Early Identification and Intervention for Genetic Disorders.

Cynthia was inducted into Sigma Theta Tau International Beta Iota Chapter as an undergraduate in April, 1982. At that time, Cynthia Prows demonstrated academic excellence, academic integrity and leadership potential. Today, she exhibits the characteristics of a seasoned scholar who is impacting scientists in the national health care community. Beta Iota Chapter is extremely proud to recognize the accomplishments of Cynthia Prows, our Nurse Scholar Achieving Excellence.

BETA IOTA CHAPTER

COMMENTS FROM THE PRESIDENT

E Pluribus Unum - From the Many, One

Barbara Jordan, a leader I have long admired, was the first African American woman to (a) serve in the Texas Senate, (b) be elected to Congress and (c) deliver the keynote address at a national political convention. In her 1992 keynote address at a national party convention, she eloquently and passionately focused on community and responsibility with these words "...America's strength is rooted in diversity. Our history bears witness to that statement. E pluribus unum was a good motto in the early days of our country, and it is a good motto today. From the many, one. It still identifies us – because we are Americans (cited in Rogers, 1998). I believe these words can be used in other contexts to challenge and motivate people to unite and take action. Instead of America or Americans, insert Beta Iota Chapter. From the many, one. Our members are diverse in age, gender, culture, practice, and abilities. Yet, as nurse scholars, we unify to achieve one mission, "to support the learning, knowledge and professional development of nurses committed to making a difference in health worldwide".

Thirty-three years ago, Beta Iota was chartered by Sigma Theta Tau International, The Honor Society of Nursing, as the 55th chapter. This historical event occurred because of the vision and commitment of Ruth Dalrymple, the UC College of Nursing Dean. In 1968, she initiated the application process to become a chartered chapter of the national honor society, Sigma Theta Tau. At the time of application, UC College of Nursing had already established Alpha Alpha Pi Honor Society and had hoped to retain the name. However, on May 21, 1972, the chapter was chartered and the name given was Beta Iota. For the past 33 years, Beta Iota Chapter has forged paths in research funding and knowledge dissemination, developed collaborative efforts with other chapters and organizations, and

News

2005-07 International Board of Directors

On November 16, 2005, Carol Picard, RN, PhD, FAAN, was installed as President of Sigma Theta Tau International. She challenged the 38th Biennial House of Delegates in her Call to Action entitled, From Vision to Action, A Call for Collaboration. As she articulately presented her Call to Action, she stated "I believe nursing is caring in the human health experience, and that being leaders in caring requires us to live out the attributes of compassion, competence, confidence, conscience, and commitment. . .". She challenged chapters to be "hubs for nursing leadership and examine how they reach out to their respective health care communities and the wider community at large". She encouraged chapters to collaborate with a focus on knowledge, leadership, service, sustainability, and communities. For the complete address, link to the following http://www.nursingsociety.org/about/Picard_CALL.html

Carol will work in concert with the International Board of Directors comprised of four officer-directors, six non-officer directors, and the CEO, Nancy Dickenson-Hazard. To find out more about the members of the Board of Directors, link to <http://www.nursingsociety.org/about/leaders.html>

Notification of Dues Increase

Effective January 1, 2006, the international portion of the Sigma Theta Tau International membership dues will increase to $60.00.

Region 9 News

New Region 9 Coordinator

Betsy Frank, PhD, RN, is the new Region 9 Coordinator. She is Professor of Nursing at Indiana State University. Dr. Frank will serve a two-year term as Coordinator and will preside over a four to five-member Region 9 Committee. She is in the process of selecting committee members. As Coordinator, she will serve as an international liaison and resource for 31 chapters located in Indiana, Kentucky, central/southern Ohio and Mexico. Best wishes to Dr. Frank for a productive and exciting biennium.

Chapter Leader Academy

Chapter Leader Academy is an opportunity to develop as a Sigma Theta Tau International leader. Programs and events are planned to provide the new chapter leader with the tools necessary to effectively perform his or her chapter role. Seasoned leaders will have opportunities to learn and share best practices. This exciting academy will be held in Indianapolis, IN, September 28 -30, 2006. Beta Iota will be underwriting the cost for current and potential leaders to attend.

Call for Nominations for Nurse Leaders

The Governance Committee of the Beta Iota Chapter is seeking nominations for membership in the Nurse Leader category. Nurses who are community leaders are eligible for membership if the leader has a minimum of a baccalaureate degree and has demonstrated marked achievement in nursing in at least one of the following areas: education, research, practice, administration, or publication.

The Governance Committee encourages Beta Iota members to identify nurse leaders in the community who demonstrate excellence in nursing. If you know of a potential nurse leader who meets the eligibility criteria, please contact Jeanine Swails at jeanine.swails@uc.edu or (513) 558-2930 by February 21, 2006 for the nomination form. The nominations for nurse leaders must be completed and received by March 1, 2006.

designed ways to creatively recognize nursing excellence. In 2006, we are at a crossroads in our chapter's life – to merely exist or to be productive and build on the tremendous foundation established by our former leaders. Beta Iota Chapter cannot be productive without committed leaders and it will not continue to exist without effective leadership succession strategies.

The six members of your current Board of Directors, although committed to chapter sustainability and productivity, cannot do this without your support and involvement. As your President, I encourage you to think about the motto, E Pluribus Unum. Give thought to our chapter's heritage and envision the chapter you want us to be in the future. This new year, 2006, make a commitment to become engaged with Beta Iota and help make your vision a reality. Share your talents, expertise, and time in the promotion of nursing excellence and scholarship.

E Pluribus unum – From the many, one.
